Panache is a scalable, high-performance, remote file data caching solution with the GPFS cluster file system. It leverages the inherent scalability of GPFS to provide a multi-node, consistent cache of data exported by a remote file system.

Keywords: caching, cluster filesystem, pNFS, wide-area network

These proceedings contain the papers presented at the 9th Annual Genetic and Evolutionary Computation Conference (GECCO-2007), held in London, UK, July 2007. For the first time GECCO was held outside the US. This clearly provides a unique opportunity for researchers to present their work in the field of evolutionary computation.

One of the prime problems faced by the researchers and designers in a rapidly expanding area is the complete awareness of the work carried out by other researchers. The problem is compounded when technology itself changes rapidly. This paper presents a preliminary attempt to address this problem by providing a comprehensive bibliography of the work in the field of computer networks.
